

The Gruffalo

Listen

The following link is to a audio version of the book 'The Gruffalo'. There are a number of versions of this familiar tale on YouTube for you to explore. Do you know the characters? Can you point them out?

Logpile House

Can you create a minibeast house, like the logpile house that the snake hides in? Perhaps you could lay some sticks on top of each other, and add some stones, leaves, moss and soil for the minibeasts to hide in. Have a look back a few days later and see if any little creatures are calling it home.

Gruffalo Crumble

Make 'Gruffalo Crumble' by adding 100g of melted chocolate to 100g of rice crispies or cornflakes in a large bowl. Mix the crumble with a spoon and add to cupcake cases. Chill in the fridge for an hour.

Textures

Can you explore some textures found in the deep, dark, wood? Perhaps you could feel some moss, hug a tree or stroke a smooth pebble. How do they feel? Smooth or rough? Hard or soft? You could take a photo of these woodland objects and try to use a describing word to label them.
