

Handa's Surprise

Playdough Fruit Salad

Using playdough, can you create your own fruit salad? Can you roll the playdough into balls to create apples and oranges? Can you push these around your tray, or grasp them and release them into a dish? Perhaps you can help roll a sausage shape that could be bent into a banana? If you poke your finger nail into a big ball, it could look like the skin of a pineapple! You could also practise your knife and fork skills, by chopping the banana into smaller pieces.

Animal Dance

What if animals could dance? What would they look like? Watch the video and dance along to the animal dance. You could get an adult to record you and watch yourself back. Or you could even record an adult doing the dance! Who is the best in your family?

Fruit Printing

Chop up some hard fruit, such as apple, pear or pineapple and paint to make prints on paper. Press the painted fruits to make shapes, or roll them to make lines. You could even use them as a paintbrush to paint a picture.

You could also paint the skins of a variety of fruits and print on paper. The skin of a pineapples would make an interesting effect when rolled on paper.

Bird Feeders

In the story, the ostrich pinches some fruit from the basket. Can you make some bird feeders for your garden? The link below shows how this can be done with natural resources.
